

HENRY MOORE

I have been very influenced by the sculptures of Henry Moore. While in high school my art teacher told me that Henry Moore was going to be at the Art Gallery of Ontario and "gave me permission to skip the school day to see him". I treasure an autographed book that he signed. I had an exhibition at First Impressions Gallery of Henry Moore's etchings and lithograph a year before his death in 1985. In July 2005, I visited The Henry Moore Foundation in England with its sculpture park and his studio. In December 2005 there was a Toronto newspaper article that in the middle of the night one of outdoor bronze sculptures was stolen.
