

Mushroom of Knowledge 1970

I won Second Prize for Canada in the UNESCO International Creative Arts Contest "Education Changes Things" in 1970 while still in high school. It is an edition of two. The chrome pieces were formed according to my drawings at my father's automotive company. You start acquiring your knowledge as a child and then it accumulates as you grow older. "Mushrooms" grows in the dark. It is also a reference to the "Mushroom Cloud" that one experiences after a nuclear explosion. The reflexive surface is a "mirror" into the persons persona or their soul.

It is about 10.75" diameter x 8 " high
27.50 cm diameter x 20.50 cm high
Edition of Two.
